Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 15 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wet morning on Tuesday for many, turning drier later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Largely cloudy during this evening with a band of rain, heavy at times arriving from the southwest and spreading across the region. Rain persists throughout the night along with strong winds and coastal gales, especially in Cornwall. Feeling mild. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Some dry and bright weather to start, whilst heavy showers arrive from the west and spread across the region. Turning drier later with the odd shower possible overnight. Windy throughout. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Dry with sunny intervals to start for Wednesday, followed by blustery showers locally heavy. Generally dry with scattered showers on Thursday, further rain for Friday. Mild with strong winds throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.